Our commitment: professional ethics underpinning responsible growth

Sii, in line with its respect for men and women, the environment bases its development and actions in Poland and internationally on values and principles to benefit:

- ⇒ its clients,
- ⇒ its Workers,
- ⇒ the communities and countries where Sii operates.

Sii, a major operator among IT and engineering enterprises, aims to offer its clients the highest quality services. This aim, based on innovation and performance, is itself underpinned by ethics and responsible growth.

Gaining recognition as a responsible operator, ensuring the integrity and exemplary nature of its business conduct and contributing through its professional activities to the social development of civil society, requires that significant points of reference are established in order to sustain and increase the trust of its stakeholders.

This Ethical Charter is based both on the values of Sii and the fundamental principles that the company undertakes to respect, namely:

- ⇒ The Universal Declaration of Human Rights,
- ⇒ The conventions of the International Labor Organization, including those relating to the prohibition of child labor and forced labor,
- ⇒ The United Nations Global Compact principles,
- ⇒ The principles of the Organization of Economic Cooperation and Development, particularly those relating the fight against corruption,
- ⇒ Changes in the provisions of Polish and EU law.

The Ethical Charter does not replace the laws and regulations in force in the countries in which Sii operates, nor any existing contracts and obligations. Its goal is to promote its provisions and guarantee their fair and effective application.

2. Sii values

The Sii is characterized by a corporate culture driven by strong values fully in line with the recommendations of “Global Compact”, the initiative of the United Nations Secretary General.

Ambition & Fighting Spirit

Status quo doesn't satisfy us – we constantly strive to become better, reach further and, above all, we want to win against our competitors (it is the main reason why we love this business so much!). To remain the best technology consulting, digital transformation, BPO and engineering services vendor in Poland, we set ourselves ambitious goals and pursue them persistently thanks to our perseverance and discipline. We are never fully satisfied with our performance and we constantly challenge ourselves to improve and deliver even better results. We never give up and fight till the end to achieve it!

Courage & Transparency

Leadership requires making tough and unpopular decisions. We are not afraid of tackling challenges, taking risks and facing the consequences of our choices. We always have the courage to express our opinion despite the consequences, even when it involves criticism against our subordinates or managers. We avoid political correctness. Even when we don't bring good news, we speak our minds honestly.

Curiosity

We always ask many questions, because we have the desire to learn new things and meet new people. We are eager to discover new businesses, technologies and organizations as well as to explore new places, cultures and methods. We are always curious about the new and never afraid of change.

Engagement & Passion

Power People are the embodiment of passion, both at work as well as after hours. We are truly and deeply excited about people, technology and business. We love to learn and grow, and we do it with great engagement and enthusiasm.

Fairness

We never compromise our integrity. We obey the fair play principles and treat justly both our clients and workers. We pay salaries, which reflect the objective average market value, as well as their individual performance. As to business partners, we serve them fairly by offering prices compliant with the quality we deliver.

Flexibility

Flexibility towards both our business partners and employees is key to us. Our objective is to meet our client's expectations and requirements as well as adapt to their organization and processes to provide the best services possible. We provide to our workers with flexible employment conditions, the possibility of working from home, a vast range of projects and the opportunity to change their career path.

Loyalty & Solidarity

Regardless of the circumstances, we stay loyal to our company and stand behind our people. We can count on each other in good and in worse times. We don't quit when we face a problem, but instead we support each other in the quest of finding the best solutions. We always stand united and act together to reach our core objectives.

Modesty

Despite our success, we haven't become arrogant, keeping in mind that our good financial performance may change. We remain modest and humble as well as admit to our mistakes as we know we are not always right. We love constructive criticism, which to us is a means to improvement. We know we have a lot to learn from our colleagues and clients as well as competitors.

Ownership & Accountability

We don't blame others for our mistakes. We are accountable for our performance and take full ownership of our failures and learn from them.

Positive can-do-attitude

Energy, optimism and enthusiasm is what defines us. Problems and blockers happen every day, but we treat them as challenges and always look for new out-of-the-box solutions.

Quality

Quality is our priority! We take the utmost care to ensure its highest level in cooperation between different Sii departments and units as well as in collaboration with our clients, partners and suppliers. We deliver projects on time, within the set budget and with utmost attention to detail. On a regular basis we meticulously verify and evaluate our activities using satisfaction surveys as well as internal and external audits.

Simplicity & authenticity

We never compromise our authenticity and stay true to our characters. We don't play ourselves up, but communicate directly and straight to the point, without beating around the bush or sugarcoating.

Team Spirit & Respect

At Sii we are all equal. Regardless of position, hierarchy level, age, gender, religion or any other factors, we respect each other. We believe that all opinions matter equally, and everyone can contribute to our growth. We are guided by empathy, which allows us to appreciate other people's perspectives. We recognize diversity as one of our assets, thanks to which we can develop and collaborate effectively. Moreover, we do not let our individual differences distract us from what we, as a team, aim for because we are a community sharing common goals and a sense of fellowship. We know that we can achieve much more together. Despite constructive conflicts between team members, we always look for compromise and put the benefit of the majority in front of individual interests. However, we are not afraid to part ways with troublemakers, who have a negative influence on our joint performance. We believe it gives us an advantage and is the engine for further growth.

Trust and Freedom

We strongly believe that mutual trust is essential to any relationship. We have confidence in our employees and delegate our decision-making power to lower hierarchical levels. Thanks to the autonomy we provide our experts with, the decisions are made quicker and more effectively.
